Washington, DC 20576
Tuesday February 25, 2003
3:00 PM to 5:00 PM

The Federal Highway Administration, Eastern Federal Lands Highway Division, is coordinating the environmental, historical, and cultural resource studies for the proposed modifications to Pennsylvania Avenue between 15th and 17th Streets and Jackson and Madison Place, NW, Washington, DC.

You recently indicated on a public comment form, or through earlier consultation with the Federal Highway Administration and National Capital Planning Commission, that you wished to participate in the historic preservation Section 106 review process for this project. Therefore, you are invited to attend a consultation meeting which has been set for February 25, 2003 from 3:00 - 5:00 pm at the National Capital Planning Commission (NCPC), located at 401 9th Street, NW, North Lobby, Suite 500, in Washington DC. A description of the proposed action will be presented. The Area of Potential Effects and issues related to potential effects of the undertaking on historic resources will be reviewed and discussed. Further consultation meetings will be scheduled in coming months and you will receive notice of those meetings.
